

Honors of the Society

The Virginia Society for Technology in Education seeks nominations from around the state for individuals who have made a significant contribution to educational technology in Virginia.

This award is embodied in a plaque given to the recipient, recognition at the Annual Conference, and a letter to appropriate persons.

Nominations are made electronically from a VSTE member outlining specific qualifications and contributions of the nominee. Electronic mail (with supporting materials attached) may be sent any time during the year to awards@vste.org
